

Trending Law Blog: When Your Social Media Presence Can be Used Against You in a Foreign State as a Basis for Personal Jurisdiction

January 23, 2018

In the inaugural blog post of Trending Law Blog, a publication that explores the impact of social media on the law, Rob Nussbaum considers whether a party's presence on social media can serve as a basis for a court to exercise personal jurisdiction.

Click here to read the post.